Marika Bergmann

My art will open up spaces and promote the willingness to help shape our environment by creating connections in the field of fine arts.

As the cultural landscape changes, structural patterns are decoded by me, combined into new forms of design in painting and graphics with the help of overdrawing. Collage techniques, room installations with light and projection are just as much a part of my work as drawings, Photographs, large-scale spray works, action paintings, and designs for public art and performance that take the audience into account.

As an artist, I am currently approaching figurative painting and stylistic elements of the Symbolism and Art Nouveau. My style is then subtle, characterized by my dramatic spontaneity, which creates generous space in abstract structures, especially in the backgrounds of the pictures. My choice of color is characterized by an expressive intensity that arises in the symbolic tradition of color psychology. The sense of space is associated with dynamics - liveliness and energy are released in my work. The viewer develops. A synergy with the image, longings are activated. Active participation in shaping the environment is encouraged.
